RUSS FORCES ATTACK NAZIS ABOVE KIEV

MAY BE OPENING OF OFFENSIVE TO PUSH GERMANS INTO POLAND

MOSCOW, Nov. 5.—(UP)—A powerful red army struck west and south from a five-mile-deep bridgehead on the west bank of the Dnieper above Kiev today in what may be the opening blow of an offensive to roll back the Germans to Poland's Bug river.

The Russians moved forward under cover of a terrific aerial and artillery bombardment as their comrades to the south mopped up the Nogaisk steppes in a triumphant wind-up to the liberation of 135,135 square miles—the entire Ukraine east of the Dnieper river—in the Soviet summer offensive, a campaign that cost the Germans 2,700,000 in dead, wounded and prisoners.

Front reports said the Germans were draining off strength from other fronts to rush all available men and machines into frantic counterattacks in an attempt to stem the new assault north of Kiev, which holds a potential threat of splitting the German armies in Russia in two.

After massing strength on the west bank of the Dnieper in the lull following their initial landings last month, the Russians lashed out and seized Dimer, 22 miles northwest of Kiev on the main highway to the Ukrainian capital, and at least seven other German strongholds.

More than 1,000 German were killed in the first 24 hours of heavy fighting, while booty captured included 34 field guns, five self-propelled "Ferdinand" guns and four six-barreled trench mortars. Red air force planes, supporting the ground forces, destroyed or damaged 20 German tanks and 150 trucks and silenced 28 artillery batteries. Thirty-two intercepting German planes were shot down.

The red army also gained new ground west and southwest of Nevel on the central front, where a full-scale offensive might cut through to the Baltic and trap the huge German forces arrayed before Leningrad and to the southwest.

Novokhovansk, 10 miles southwest of Nevel and only 60 miles east of the Latvian border, and more than 80 additional towns and villages were liberated in what the Soviet high command called "engagements of a local character." Particularly fierce fighting developed near one town, but the enemy battalion defending it was "mainly annihilated" and its remnants captured.

The Don and Kuban Cossacks all but completed the mopping up of the Nogaisk steppes with the capture of Tsurupinsk, a suburb of Kherson on the opposite bank of the Dnieper; Golaya Pristan, on the south bank of the Dnieper four miles from the Black Sea, and some 30 other localities.

SOME FANCY VOTING STRENGTH

It looks as though some of the towns in Hendricks county, hold honors for voting strength in town elections held throughout Indiana last Tuesday. In most of them there was only one ticket in the field, but in the election was held just the same. In Pittsboro, the polls were kept open all day and 11 votes were cast. Plainfield 35 votes were tabulated. Clayton did a rush business with about 80 per cent of the town voting. In Danville only 100 votes were cast. Linton, Amo, North Salem and Coatesville did not vote, their town boards holding over for another four year period.

Lieut. Tom Harmon Is Missing Again

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 5.—(UP)—"The Secretary of War desires to express regrets at this time that your son, Lt. Thomas D. Harmon, is missing in action."

This was the second time in seven months that Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Harmon were advised that their all-American son, Tommy Harmon, was lost in air action.

He came back the first time—in April—but today the odds were heavy against him. This time the former University of Michigan gridiron hero had not been on a transit mission. He had been assigned to the 14th Air Force in China, piloting a P-40 pursuit plane against the Japanese. He has been missing since Oct. 30, the War Department said.

Harmon's mother, who "was sure Tom would come back" when it was announced April 14 that her son and his crew were missing from a crash in the Caribbean area, again refused to abandon hope.

"We didn't lose courage during those days in April when we heard nothing," she said, "and we won't believe that he has not come out on top this time."

Harmon had requested a transfer to a pursuit group because he did not wish to be responsible for a crew if anything should happen to him or his plane. The first plane, which crashed into the jungles of Dutch Guiana, was called "Little Butch—Old 98," the numerals Harmon wore on his football jersey. The ship Harmon had been flying in China was called "Little Butch II" and also bore the numerals "98."

LOU COSTELLO LIVES UP TO OLD THEATER SLOGAN

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5.—(UP)—Lou Costello's party for his son's first birthday, to signalize the roly-poly comic's emergence from a slough of hard luck, turned today into a funeral service.

The infant, Lou Costello, Jr., drowned in the family swimming pool three hours before his father brushed the tears from his eyes and laughed, as loud as he could, on a coast-to-coast radio broadcast.

The program, replete with jokes which took on a macabre tinge for those few listeners who knew of the tragedy at the pool, featured Costello and his longtime partner, Bud Abbott. It was their first since hard luck Lou became critically ill with rheumatic fever last March.

The broadcast last night at NBC studios was to have been a gala event. Then Costello's doctor, Victor Kovner, phoned him about the baby's breaking out of its crib, crawling to the edge of the pool and falling in; about the firemen diving for the child and working in vain for an hour and a half to revive him.

Motorists Urged To Pamper Tires

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Treat those old tires gently or your car soon may be running on its rims; that was the essence of a joint statement today by the nation's tire makers.

If your tires have some tread left, make it last by careful driving; if they are bald, have them recapped before it's too late, the tire men advised.

"A widespread lay-up of cars and trucks—which might cripple war production—can be prevented only by the most stringent conservation of tires now on our motor vehicles," the Rubber Manufacturers Association said in launching a campaign to save tires.

Little optimism can be read into increased synthetic rubber production, the tire experts said, because there already is a shortage that will be a deficit of 2,000,000 passenger car tires by January 1, 1944 and of 1,500,000 truck tires.

Rotary Is Offered Many Suggestions

Many suggestions have been offered to the Rotary Club for a post war memorial for those who have served in World War II. Many feel that the cost of such a project need not be large to be suitable. A "living" project that may be used by Putnam people seems to be uppermost in the minds of those thinking about a memorial.

Some ideas for additions to the facilities of the Putnam County hospital have been advanced. Purchase of an iron lung would fill a need, the purchase of a collection of rare drugs has been suggested.

Others have thought that a community hall that might be similar to the Union buildings on large university campuses would be a useful undertaking. A unique proposal for a large experimental farm to be operated on a non-profit basis for the collective benefit of the county was made.

A social program built around a fund for the social welfare of our county veterans has been proposed. Others advanced suggestions for a swimming pool, and development of a county park which would offer recreational facilities for everyone.

Many of these ideas will be developed in the contest which the Rotary club is sponsoring. Prizes will be awarded the three winning entries. The deadline for mailing entries is midnight, November 15, 1943.

WLB TO RULE ON WAGE PACT WITH MINERS

NEW CONTRACT NEGOTIATED BY SECRETARY ICKES AND JOHN L. LEWIS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(UP)—The War Labor Board expects to rule today on the wage contract for 530,000 miners negotiated by coal administrator Harold L. Ickes and John L. Lewis.

The board discussed the agreement for six hours yesterday and adjourned without action, announcing that it would put the question to a vote at 11 a. m. EDT.

Meanwhile, the miners were slowly returning to the pits although there is no hope of complete resumption of production until next week. Many miners are holding out until the WLB approves the new contract.

Inasmuch as the contract appeared to meet the conditions set by the board members involved the validity of an agreement negotiated during a strike.

When President Roosevelt seized the mines Monday night, he authorized Ickes to offer the miners a contract based on the WLB decision. Ickes and Lewis negotiated the agreement Tuesday and Wednesday while the united mine workers' three-day general strike was in progress. The UMW policy committee called off the strike at the same time that it ratified the agreement.

The WLB has held consistently that the wartime no-strike policy precludes permitting settlement of a labor dispute while a strike is in effect. That contention is based on the premise that the no-strike agreement cannot be effective if the strike weapon is used by labor.

The Ickes-Lewis agreement provided a basic daily wage of $8.50 for soft coal miners with an 8 3/4 hour day, including travel time. Under their old contract, the miners earned $7 daily for seven hours of productive work, exclusive of travel time.

Appalachian operators marked time, awaiting a WLB decision on the proposed contract before expressing their views. Although they have denounced the Illinois agreement, which proved the same wage structure as the Ickes-Lewis contract, it was indicated that their objections would dissolve if they were assured of a satisfactory price increase.

The operators argued that their average travel time exceeded the 45-minute estimate used in both the Illinois and the Ickes-Lewis agreements and that they would not receive production increases proportionate with the wage increases.

Ickes told a press conference yesterday that he probably would ask the Office of Price Administration to approve a price adjustment when an investigation of costs has been completed.

TWO MORE COUNTY MEN WILL SEE NAVY SERVICE

Two more Putnam county men, Frank Arnold Grimes and Pius Orad Lanham, were accepted by the Navy in the group that went to Indianapolis for final examination Tuesday for duty with the armed forces under the National Selective Service Act.

With the addition of these two, the latest quota from the county has now reached a total of 15, the local draft board office announced Friday.

LOCAL BOY IS BEING HELD BY NAZIS IN ITALY

JUNIOR BRANT REPORTED A PRISONER AFTER BEING MISSING IN ACTION

Mrs. Minnie Brant received a telegram from the War Department in Washington, D. C., Friday morning that her son, Laurence Brant, Jr., who had been previously reported missing in action in Italy since September 13, was a prisoner of war. It was believed here that the local boy had been captured by the Germans during the fierce fighting in the vicinity of Salerno.

The telegram was as follows: "The commanding general North African area reports that your son, Second Lieutenant Laurence F. Brant, Jr., who was previously reported missing in action was captured by the enemy. His mail address cannot be furnished until confirmation of capture is received through the International Red Cross. If additional information is received you will be promptly notified."

Troops Take Over At Japanese Camp

TULE LAKE, Cal., Nov. 5.—(UP)—U. S. troops, armed with tanks, machine guns and bayonets, forcibly took over the troublesome Tule Lake Japanese segregation center today, and unofficial reports said about 26 casualties were inflicted among the Japanese internees.

Col. Verne Austin said steel-helmeted army troops moved in last night after the situation became "explosive" at the center, where internees held National War Relocation Director Dillon Meyer and 10 white staff persons visitors virtual prisoners for four hours during a demonstration Monday.

The soldiers rounded up 500 of the most recalcitrant Japanese and held them at the camp administration building for questioning. The camp is a segregation center for 15,000 "disloyal" Japanese rounded up from nine other west coast relocation camps.

"They were getting near our ammunition depot last night when we caught them," one soldier said.

No official statement could be obtained on the nature of the Japanese casualties or how they were received.

Many of the Japanese under guard wore the uniform of the camp's internal police, indicating that the trouble-makers comprised the more influential element at the center.

The disheveled prisoners sat with their hands over their heads while their leaders underwent a two-hour questioning. First reports did not reveal how long the prisoners were held.

The soldiers said additional leaders living in remote sections of the camp also would be rounded up.

9 JAP WARSHIPS, MANY AIRPLANES BAGGED BY YANKS

DECISIVE DEFEAT OF ENEMY TRYING TO HALT INVASION OF ISLAND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(UP)—New landings on Bougainville Island in the northwestern Solomons were believed imminent today.

There appeared increasing evidence that the Japanese are finding it difficult, if not costly, to supply plane reinforcements to the air bases which provide the island's main defenses.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS

Southwest Pacific, Nov. 5.—(UP)—Nine Japanese warships were sent to the bottom or damaged Monday night when U. S. naval guns smashed an enemy attempt to halt the Bougainville invasion, a communique reported today.

The toll was based on preliminary reports of the 90-minute battle, indicating it may turn out to be an even greater American victory when full details are disclosed.

Not an American vessel was lost although some were damaged and there were casualties in the fight which took place only 40 miles off the beachhead won on Bougainville, northernmost of the Solomons, by U. S. marines only 12 hours before.

A previous communique had disclosed the engagement but gave no details. It was fought while transports were still unloading off Bougainville. The next day the warships brought down 17 of 67 Japanese planes that attacked them.

(Berlin broadcast a Tokyo dispatch which apparently referred to the same engagements. It said "heavy damage" was inflicted on the American fleet units but gave no details and said "more than half" the Bougainville landing force had been wiped out and a "large number" of landing craft were sunk.)

Twelve Japanese ships, including four cruisers and eight destroyers, took part in the fight. One cruiser and four destroyers were sunk and two cruisers and two destroyers damaged. On Tuesday allied planes in a heavy raid dealt a strong blow at Rabaul, big enemy base on New Britain, had sunk or damaged three enemy destroyers and two large cruisers.

While the marines who landed at Empress Augusta Bay on Bougainville fought their way inland expecting counterattacks, Japanese resistance on Mono Island, largest of the Treasury group 30 miles south of Bougainville, was crushed by allied troops who went ashore there Oct. 27 to begin the last phase of the campaign through the Solomons on the southeast approaches to Rabaul.

A Guadalcanal dispatch revealed that Lieut. Gen. Alexander Vandegrift, hero of the conquest of that island, was in personal charge of the marines on Bougainville. The communique contained no new report of their progress.

FIGHT IN PROGRESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(UP)—House Republicans promised today to "go after" a $250,000 appropriation for the Labor Department and the $50,000,000 national housing "rocket" in the most bitter fiscal battle in Congress in years.

Rep. John Taber, R., N. Y., a ranking member of the appropriations committee, said those agencies would be included in the campaign to slash government expenditures. The drive is aimed primarily at a $5,000,000 allotment to the Office of War Information's foreign branch contained in the $167,268,444 general deficiency appropriation bill.

The economy drive is a "token" affair since the amounts involved represent fractional percentages of the total government budget of $104,000,000,000 for the 1944 fiscal year. That didn't lessen the intensity of a partisan fight over the OWI which kept the House in session until 3:17 p. m., last night.

Church Women Asked To Observe Nov. 11th

The United Council of Church Women is asking that church women throughout our nation observe Thursday, November 11th as "World Community Day." In each community plans are being made for interdenominational programs, for women to meet for a period of fellowship and study together. This effort is said to be for one of the greatest adventures attempted in Christian unity by church women. Therefore in Greencastle the local council of Federated Church Women has arranged for a cooperative church program in the Baptist church next Thursday.

The program is arranged between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock. All churches in the community have received invitations for women to join in the meeting. Even if one can not attend the complete program, women are urged to come to any part of the program suitable for their schedule of time.

Mrs. Ward Mayhall, as president of the Federated Church Women of Greencastle will preside at the luncheon and afternoon meeting.

Each woman is to bring her own simple essential lunch and table service (suggested lunch: sandwiches, fruit and cookies). The Baptist ladies will serve coffee. There is no need to make reservations, but every one is urged to plan to come if possible for the luncheon at 1 p. m.

From 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. a worship service and discussion is planned. Mrs. Louis F. Hays will lead the wor-

HINT TO FARMERS
 Just as the Hoosier housewife needs "points" in order to balance a meal these days, the Indiana farmer may profit by following practical "pig points" in balancing hog rations, says C. M. Vestal, Agricultural Experiment Station hogman at Purdue University. He suggests the following 14 points for best results in feeding pigs:

1. Conserve protein feeds for the young pigs.
2. Use good protein supplements efficiently to promote growth and health in pigs, and to save feed grains.
3. Protect hog production by feeding sows and pigs plenty of good protein feed, even at the expense of the older growing and fattening hogs.
4. The best place to skip on protein feed is in fattening hogs on pasture.
5. Start pigs on a protein-rich ration when two to three weeks of age.
6. Combine other grain with corn in sow and pig rations.
7. Use feeds of good quality and known feeding value, and only those suitable for the animals being fed.
8. Make liberal use of good pasture whenever possible.
9. Make liberal use of fresh, bright alfalfa hay or meal in winter feeding.
10. Give hogs access to salt and keep a good mineral mixture before them at all times.
11. Self-feed fattening hogs.
12. Provide ample shelter or shade and good drinking water near the feeding place.

13. Avoid all feed wastage, adjust self-feeders, and avoid feeding in the mud or dust.

14. Keep hogs healthy by practicing sanitation, vaccinating against cholera, providing proper housing in winter, preventing nutritional deficiency diseases, and feeding good rations.

MORE FOOD IS OBJECTIVE

"Increased production of war-vital food stuffs is the number-one objective of the Farm Security Administration for the coming year," County FSA Supervisor George W. Hanna said today in announcing that applications are now being received in his office for loans for the 1944 crop season.

"Loans will be available through FSA as they were last year, for the purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer tools and livestock. These loans are made to farmers who cannot secure reasonable credit through other private and governmental outlets.

"The farmer who receives a loan through FSA this year must have increased production as the principal thought in his mind," Mr. Hanna said. "All our efforts in supervision and planning will be aimed at helping him grow every possible ounce of the food we need to win the war."

In the five midwestern states of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Iowa, Mr. Hanna said FSA borrowers produced 145 million gallons of milk in 1941, 167 million gallons last year, and have 197 million gallons as their goal for 1943.

They produced 32 million dozen eggs in 1941, 41 million dozen in 1942 and this year their goal is 53 million dozen. From 187 million pounds of pork in 1941 they increased to 243 million pounds last year, and this year planned to produce 358 million pounds. They raised 18 million pounds of chickens for meat in 1941, 24 million pounds in 1942 and this year planned to produce over 30 million pounds of poultry for market.

"In Indiana," Mr. Hanna said, "the 7000 FSA borrowers this year expect to increase milk production by 15 per cent over last year's total of 21,315,300 gallons."

Other Indiana increases laid out for this year include: 24 per cent more than last year's total of 4,840,340 dozen eggs; an increase of 20 per cent over the 4,444,350 pounds of chickens for meat sold by FSA borrowers; an increase of 39 per cent over last year's 36,323,300 pounds of pork; and an increase of 13 per cent over the 6,677,490 pounds of beef going to market from Indiana FSA farms.

"These small farmers supplied more than one-third of last year's increase in milk production in the nation although they represent only 7.6 per cent of all farmers. They are bettering that record this year, and can make additional increases in 1944 if provided with the necessary credit, land, and technical guidance," Mr. Hanna said.

MAPLE HEIGHTS METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. Stanley Smith, pastor.

This Sunday is not the pastor's Sunday to preach at Maple Heights, but a fine group of college students back from vacations will be on hand to provide leadership for the Sunday school which starts at 9:30. Due to seating difficulties in the church, we will hold Sunday school this Sunday morning in the school house, which will be nice and warm. We hope that a lot of children and their parents will come to join the students in the service. The South Side Cubs are especially invited so that they can discuss at this time with their leader, Fred Jensen, a suitable time to meet. Announcement will be made also about the recreation program for the girls.

NEWSPAPER FINDS SISTER FOR STALLINGRAD WOMAN

CLEVELAND (UP)—The joy of being reunited—if only by mail with her sister in Russia whom she had not heard from for 14 years brought tears of joy to the eyes of a Cleveland woman.

A letter was received by a Cleveland newspaper some time ago requesting the paper's "Address Bureau" to locate Mrs. Bertha Goodman, a sister of Mrs. Anna Klatsman, the writer of the letter, who lives in Stalingrad, Russia.

Mrs. Leona Hole, secretary of the Russian War Relief office, called all the Leo Goodmans in the Cleveland city telephone directory, but none answered the description given in the letter from Stalingrad.

Finally, the newspaper printed the story and within 24 hours the Mrs. Leo Goodman being sought came in to the newspaper's offices.

Mailed in December, 1942, the letter told how the Klatsman family in Russia had fled Kiev when it was besieged. It told the story of the death of Mrs. Klatsman's husband, and said that two of the five Klatsman children were missing.

MAINTENANCE CREWS PREPARE ROADS

Despite the great reduction in traffic because of wartime restrictions on travel, there can be no curtailment in the preparations for winter which are made annually by maintenance crews, S. C. Hadden, chairman of the State Highway Commission said.

Maintenance crews are busy cleaning up the heavier weeds along rights-of-ways to prevent them from causing snow drifts. Loads of abrasives are being distributed to curves, bridges and grades, which become dangerous when covered with snow and ice. Sand and cinders are used for this purposes. The distribu-
